Nashville Health Care Industry

Today, Middle Tennessee is home to 18 publicly traded health care companies, as well as some 270 privately held health care firms. There are also more than 250 professional service organizations supporting this industry in Middle Tennessee. I believe there is no better place for a health care MBA student than right here in Nashville, at Vanderbilt, where they can be exposed to recognized leaders in this field, become intimately involved in this industry, as well as its challenges, and opportunities.
